RULES & REGULATIONS FOR PRE CONFORMATION-FUNCTION COMPETITIONS

INTRODUCTION

Since the creation of the PRE breeders' associations, one of the main objectives has been to consider the breeding of horses as a livestock activity, aimed at obtaining a high level of quality, taking advantage of their true productive potential, and adapting their development to the conditions experienced by the market, both nationally and internationally.

In response to the changes produced within the scope of the PRE as a whole, and making use of the opinions offered by the majority of breeders working daily towards the improvement of the breed, the most outstanding changes that have been introduced, among others, are as follows: the rules and regulation for disciplinary procedures, the elimination of the Sections for yearling colts and fillies when calculating the Award for the Best Stud Farm and the Best Exhibitor in the Conformational-Functional Competitions, a new scoring system to determine these awards, as well as introducing a new score sheet and allowing mares access to the award for Best Functionality and the creation of a Conformation Competition Follow-up Commission.

To face the challenges that the PRE shall face in the future, showing true concern and a desire for commitment, following extensive deliberation and in accordance with the current legislation, this text has been drafted in an effort to continue working towards the improvement of the breed and in generating new opportunities for development, advancing towards the continuous and integral transformation of the sector.

3.3. Clothing must match the type of saddle, with one of the following being possible:

- Short country suit and other regional suits suitable for riding.

- Hunting attire.

Article 32. Noncompliance with the Rules and Regulations in Article 31 by breeders, grooms/presenters or riders could lead to their elimination judges, Chief Steward, OC or Appeals Jury excluding them from the competition, or the elimination of the horses presented by them from the arena and the competition, the owning stud farm would then forfeit any prizes that they could have been going to win. Any possible incidences that take place must be reported to ANCCE, which shall proceed with the disciplinary action in accordance with the disciplinary procedures as dictated in these Rules and Regulations.

CHAPTER VII. THE JUDGES: RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS.

Article 33. ANCCE is responsible for the training, qualification and certification of the Judges. The judges may only judge competitions that are qualifiers for the Spanish National Championships for PRE Stallions and Mares and those authorized by ANCCE.

Article 34. Rights and Obligations.

The following are rights of the judges:

- a) To be respected for their decisions within the arena.
- b) To respect their independence when they are judging.
- c) That they should be provided with correct maintenance and lodging.
- d) To receive payment for their work at the conclusion of the competition.

- c) Judge according to the breed prototype and the present Regulations for Conformation Competitions.
- d) Declare all and any incompatibilities that might apply, whether of general or unexpected nature.

Article 35. Before the start of the first competition of the season, ANCCE, having listened to the Follow-up Commission for Conformation Competitions, shall approve the judges to judge the competitions of the various categories.

Article 36. Annually, before the 31st December, the ANCCE Executive Committee, having listened to the Follow-up Commission for Conformation Competitions, will determine the category of each one of the Judges, depending on their performance. They will remain in the stated category for the subsequent year, unless disciplinary action is taken against any of them in which they are barred from acting as a Judge.

The categories in which the Judges will be listed are as follows:

Category A Judges: may judge any type of competition and only they may judge any competitions that are held outside of Spain.

Category B Judges: may judge competitions of category B or C.

Category C Judges: may only judge competitions of category C.

Article 37. The OC shall send their appointment to the Judges to judge the competition in writing sufficiently in advance of the planned date of the start of the competition. These are obliged to reply, in writing, within a period not exceeding ten (10) working days following their notification, with their acceptance or not of the responsibility for judging.

Article 38. Not attending a Competition to which he or she is committed will be considered a very serious offence. Only in the event of an act of God or an unexpected generalized conflict of interests, and having previously notified the OC, may a Judge withdraw from attending a competition. Also included here will be the alteration of the timetable of the competition for reasons that are attributable to the conduct of the designated judge.

Article 39. The Judges must complete the score sheet from the various Appendices in the indicated manner. For this, they can be helped by the auxiliary personnel, who shall write on the score sheets, that which the judges indicate.

CHAPTER VIII. CONFLICTING INTERESTS OF JUDGES.

Article 40.- The OC, having received the entries and information regarding the incompatibilities declared by the Judges, must proceed to ratify or modify the Judges that will definitively judge at the competition.

The limit for the maximum number of incompatibilities permitted for each one of the Judges will be that of two sections and/or 3 horses in total.

Article 41. A Judge that has been judged, as a breeder, grooms/presenter or rider, by another Judge, may not evaluate horses that have any relationship to the former, whether as breeder, grooms/presenter or rider, during that season.

Any horses judged contravening this rule shall be disqualified and the Judges involved shall be considered to have committed a misdemeanor classified as very serious.

Article 42. Before the 31st December of each year, the judges must send a written declaration to ANCCE stating any incompatibilities and the reason for these. In the following months, the said judge must declare any incompatibilities that have arisen.

Article 43. No Judge may judge a Section, including a knock-out round, where relevant, in which there is conflict of interests in the cases that are listed below:

- a) A horse that has been sold, gifted, employed in its various uses or bought by a Judge, either as owner or broker. This also applies in the event of the said horse/s carries the brand belonging to the judge.
- b) A horse, independent of whether it carries the Judge's brand, that is owned totally or partially by a Judge, a family member, extending to second degree, of the Judge or an associate of the said Judge.
- c) A horse that is the offspring, sire or dam of a horse owned by the judge.
- d) A horse that is owned by a stud farm on which the Judge is employed or provides or has provided services during this or the previous season.

- f) When there is a family relationship extending to second degree between the presenter, rider or owner with the said Judge.

Article 44. Should a conflict of interests arise between a judge and a horse, breeder, presenter or rider, and there is a substitute judge, the incompatible judge shall withdraw from the arena, the substitute judge taking their place for this section.

If there is more than one judge and there is no substitute judge, the horse shall be judged without the presence of the judge affected by the incompatibility.

Should a conflict of interests arise in a competition that is being judged by a single Judge, when there is no substitute judge, the horse involved in the incompatibility must be withdrawn from the competition and shall be treated as if it were not entered, with the entry fee being returned.

The limit to everything included in this article will be the same as that laid out in Article 43 of these present Regulations.

Article 45. The fees to be paid to the Judges shall be established by the ANCCE Executive Committee, as proposed by the Follow-up Commission for Conformation Competitions, upon having heard from the Association of Judges. The COs will be advised of these fees, and they will be reviewed every two (2) years, and shall be different, based upon the various categories of the judges.

CHAPTER IX. THE TEAM OF JUDGES.

Article 46. The Team of Judges for a Conformation-Functional Competition shall be made up of one, two or three judges, and there could be two Teams of Judges. The order of the Judges will be established by means of a draw before the start of the competition.

Article 47. Within the judging arena, the judges shall hold the maximum authority with regards to the judging and scoring, following the rules established in the present Regulations.

Article 48. All decisions made by the Judges in terms of scores are not subject to appeal.

Article 49. The team of Judges shall adjust their judging to the breed pattern as defined by the current legislation, following the rules established in these Regulations.

Article 50 In the case where there are two teams of Judges, who judge different sections, the team to judge each section shall be chosen by a draw. Only when judging the Special Awards shall they work as a single team of judges.

Article 51. The Judge(s) shall avoid the following behavior:

1. Touch the horses presented.
2. Receive or give any indication concerning the horses, their origins or results in previous competitions, or their owners, nor may they comment between themselves on the good or bad points of a horse, so as to avoid influencing the thoughts of another Judge.
3. Visit the facilities or properties of a breeder before or during the competition, nor may they accept their hospitality.
4. Present, ride, drive or hold any horse entered in the competition; in the same way, they may not assume any duties as organizer or commentator, nor any other functions related to the competition.

If the OC agrees, this having been applied for, the team of Judges may, once the judging has concluded, make public their decision, explaining the pros and the cons of the participating horses.

Article 52. Within the presentation arena, the team of Judges may demand the presentation of the horses in the position that is most convenient for them to perform their duties, as well as to perform the movements that they consider necessary.

Article 53. To avoid accidents to third parties, the Judges may eliminate from the arena any horse that clearly shows to be unmanageable. The Chief Steward must organize the ordered leaving by said horse, which shall be eliminated even should it already have been judged. As a horse that has been eliminated, it shall be awarded the points that correspond to a horse eliminated in the knock out round, and shall tally when it comes to determining the average points obtained by that stud farm for the Award for the Best Stud Farm or Best Exhibitor.

Article 54. The members of the team of Judges must, in the area assigned to the competition secretariat, sign the corresponding records in which the results and scores of the horses from each Section and the Special Awards.

These records must be signed by those who wrote them, the Chief Steward, and/or the commissioner of the competition, and then be sent to ANCCE within a period not exceeding five (5) days following the conclusion of the competition.

This does not have any implication on the fact that the competition results, using a computerized format, must be sent to ANCCE Competition Department, by Internet, within a period not to exceed forty-eight (48) hours following the termination of the competition.

Article 55. The decisions of the team of Judges that do not affect the scores of the horses may be appealed, in writing, before the Appeals Jury.

The deadline for presenting an appeal is one (1) hour following the publication of the results or following the incident. Any appeal presented after this time period has lapsed shall not be taken into consideration.

Article 56. At those competitions where there is no classification knock out round, the team of Judges may not judge more than eighty (80) horses in a single day.

CHAPTER X. JUDGING.

Article 57. The Judges shall, at all times in the various competitions, use the official forms to note the scores. It is obligatory that the system used in the judging of the horses be made public, in the competition program.

While judging, the Judges may only carry the official score sheets, although they may also add a blank sheet of paper on which to make notes, so as to better carry out their work. These notes, which must be for their own exclusive use, may not be shared with any other Judge.

Article 58. The horses must always be examined for their breed fidelity, conformation and movement, at walk, trot and, where relevant, canter. In addition, those that are presented relevant sections shall be judged under saddle.

Article 59. Judging records:

1. Once the record has been passed from the Judge to the table, no modifications may be made for any reason, unless a score has been omitted.
2. A pen, marker or fountain pen etc. must always be used for completing the records, never a pencil. Any crossing outs or amendments shall only be considered valid when the Judge confirms them by signature.
3. The owner of the horse, or their personnel, provided that they are properly identified, may request a copy of the record, once definitive placings have been published. The organization shall fix and publish the time at which these records may be requested.

Article 60. Judging shall be carried out by means of the records for anatomical areas method, in which case the average of the scores of each Judge's record shall decide the score for each horse and the position in the rankings for the Section.

The various sections shall be judged using the score sheets indicated in the following Appendices:

- Sections 1, 3 and 5 Appendix IVa
- Sections 7, 9 and 11, Appendix IVb
- Sections 2, 4, and 6 Appendix Vc
- Sections 8, 10, 12, and 15, Appendix V
- Section 13, Appendix VIa
- Section 14, Appendix VIb

Each section of the score sheet that corresponds to a different region or movement is followed by 11 squares with the following caption:

- With regards to movement:
  - Not performed (np) matches 0 points.
- UIT regards to movement and body areas:
  - Appalling (a) matches 1 point.
  - Very bad (vb) matches 2 points.
  - Bad (b) matches 3 points.
  - Deficient (d) matches 4 points.
  - Sufficient (S) matches 5 points.
  - Acceptable (A) matches 6 points.
  - Good (G) matches 7 points.
  - Very Good (VG) matches 8 points.
  - Excellent (E) matches 9 points.
  - Perfect (P) matches 10 points.

The judge must mark with a cross the square that best describes what he/she considers with regards to the region of the horse being judged, and that is indicated on the sheet to score the movement or functionality of the horse. Each square automatically indicates a score that the competition secretary shall later apply with the corresponding coefficient which shall be tallied for the final score.

Once the Judge has marked a square, should they wish to alter this, they must shade in the whole square, sign alongside and put the cross in another square.

Article 62. If, due to the number of horses participating in a Section, it were necessary to eliminate some horses in a preliminary round, in the case of there being three judges, two of these Judges shall have to agree.

In the case of two judges, both shall have to coincide to proceed to eliminate a horse from the round.

In the case of only one Judge, the elimination shall be automatic.

Therefore, each one of the Judges must judge the horse, completing a record sheet from APPENDIX VIII, following the same criteria that shall be observed for the final judging.

Article 62. - The functionality test.

The functionality test shall be mandatory for all horses participating in Sections 8, 10, 12, and 15. It will be carried out by the finalists of the preliminary rounds, the first 12 in sections of between 15 and 30 horses in which there is no preliminary round and the first 10 in any sections with less than 15 horses. The Organizing Committee may deem functionality voluntary for the horses participating in sections 7, 9 and 11, although, in this case it shall not count towards the final score and shall only be taken into account for the placing in the functionality section for the horses corresponding to their age group and for the Special Award for the Competition Champion of Functionality. The same criteria will be applied to the mares who take part in the functionality section, as to the stallions. Section 15 does not count towards the Special Awards.

Any placed horse that does not perform the functionality test, whatever the reason may be, shall retain a score of 75% of the score obtained in the conformation section. Should there be a preliminary round, the horse is considered eliminated, and as such shall be the score that shall be taken into consideration when calculating the average score when determining the award for the Best Stud Farm or Best Exhibitor. Should there be no preliminary round; the points shall be counted as established in APPENDIX IX.

A horse that has not performed the Functionality test may not qualify for the Spanish National Championship, nor may it seek the awards for Competition Champion and Reserve Champion of the competition.

Article 63.- In this test, the judges shall only evaluate the horse's natural paces, which are walk, trot and canter, scoring for regularity, impulsion and straightness both on a straight line as well as on a circle, and the balance shown, but taking into consideration all the breed characteristics of the horse's movement. With this in mind, APPENDIX VII shall be used. There shall be no penalty for mistakes made by the rider or for the exactness of the figures.

Should a horse be disqualified during the functionality test, that horse shall be tallied as having not performed it, even if the horse has received a score in one of its paces.

The score obtained in the said test shall account for 25% of the total score.

Article 64.- The rider may select the type of presentation, but always in keeping with the attire that corresponds to the type chosen.

Article 65.- The sections.

1. All horses that enter a Conformational-Functional Competition shall be ordered by Section according to their ages as confirmed in their passports, which shall be computed by natural years as of the 1st of January of the year the horse was born and distributed as follows:

- Section 1, Yearling Fillies

- Section 2, Yearling Colts.
- Section 3, 2-year-old Fillies.
- Section 4, 2-year-old Colts.
- Section 5, 3-year-old Fillies.
- Section 6, 3-year-old Colts.
- Section 7, 4-year-old Mares.
- Section 8, 4-year-old Stallions.
- Section 9, 5- and 6-year-old Mares.
- Section 10, 5- and 6-year-old Stallions.
- Section 11, Mares, 7 years and over.
- Section 12, Stallions, 7 years and over.
- Section 13, 3-mare Cobras.
- Section 14, 5-mare Cobras.
- Section 15, Geldings.

2. All mares presented in Sections 7, 9 and 11 must be accredited as breeding stock, according to the legislation in force at any given time, although organizing committees may exclude this requirement in Section 7, but shall be mandatory in the Final for the Spanish National Championships. Mares in Sections 9 and 11 must provide proof they have descendents or have a fool at foot.

3. Horses participating in Sections 13 and 14 must comply with the mandates for the Section they are participating in as an individual horse. Horses must be at least 4-years of age, or be four during the year in which they are competing, and it is not mandatory that the horse compete as an individual in the section for its age.

4. All stallions that are presented in sections 8, 10 and 12 must be accredited as Breeding Stock according to the legislation in force at any given time, although organizing committees may exclude this requirement for those in section 8, but it is obligatory in the Final of the Spanish National Championships.

Article 66.- Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 are obligatory in competitions of any category. Sections 1, 2, 14 and 15 may be held, but these shall not count towards any of the Special Awards, nor will they be computed when considering the number of participants at the competition.

CHAPTER XI. PROCEDURES.

Article 67.- The procedures for judging the various Sections of a Conformational-Functional Competition shall depend on the number of horses in each of them, as well as on the number of Judges. In any of the cases chosen by the OC, the following points must be taken into consideration:

1.- When there are less than 15 horses in a Section, the judging shall be carried out by means of the records for anatomical areas. The top 10 placed will be considered as finalists.

2.- When there are between 16 and 30 horses in a Section, the OC may apply a preliminary round or judge using the records for anatomical areas.

3.- When there are 31 or more horses in a Section, a preliminary round must be used.

In this case, they shall enter the arena in the following manner:

a) For from 16 to 30 horses, the section shall be divided into one or two groups. If more than one group is used, 6 or 7 horses from each group will remain in the arena, from which will be chosen the 12 finalists.

c) For 50 or more horses, 3 groups shall be used. 6 or 7 horses shall be chosen from each group, from which will be chosen the 15 finalists.

4.- Once all the horses, or all those of a group, have entered the arena, the Judge or Judges shall proceed to examine all of them. To do this, all shall be placed along the side of the arena prepared for this. The horses shall go one by one to the area reserved for judging.

5.- The animals shall be judged at all three paces, walk, trot and canter, except in the Sections for Colts and Fillies of up to 3 years and in the Cobra Sections, which shall only be judged at walk and trot. The score sheet corresponding to the relevant section shall be used. The form to be used for the preliminary rounds can be found in APPENDIX VIII (a, b or c) or the one for cobras.

The functionality test shall only be performed by the finalists.

In all cases, no matter the form of judging established in this Regulation, once the finalist horses have been ranked, the order may not be altered.

In the event of a tie only the first five places will go forward to a tie-break, other horses that are tied will be considered as ex aequo. When there is more than one Judge, judging will be done by comparison, putting the number of the winning horse on a score sheet. The winning horse shall be that which receives the greater number of votes from the judges, the second place shall go to the horse with the next largest number of votes, and so on. If there is only one Judge, they will observe those horses concerned where they are or by means of consulting the score sheets or their personal notes.

6.- In the cases of competitions where two teams of Judges take part, they shall act in the following manner:

a) The composition of the teams of Judges shall be drawn prior to the Sections to be judged, including functionality.

b) The Special Awards shall be judged by all Judges. They will fill in a score sheet on which they will note the winning horse.

c) Once computed, in the case of a tie, the Judges shall give scores to the finalists: three points to that which they consider the best, two to the second and one point to the third. The horse with the highest score shall be the winner. In the case of a further tie, the judging shall be repeated, giving two points to the best, were the tie between two horses, and one point to the second. In the event of there being a third tie, a deciding vote will be resorted to.

d) The remainder of the Special Awards shall be treated in the same way, awarding the same number of points as the number of horses to be judged.

In the Award for the Best Movement, and always in the event of a third tie, a deciding vote will be resorted to.

Article 68.- A Deciding Vote by the Judges, with regards to possible ties, is established. These will be resolved as explained below:

For competitions with 2 Judges: each Judge has the deciding vote in the following sections:

- Judge 1: sections, 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 12, 13.

CHAPTER XII. AWARDS.

Article 69. Awards for Sections.

1. At least the following Awards shall be granted:
  - 1st Champion of the Section, gold medal.
  - 2nd Reserve Champion of the Section, silver medal.
  - 3rd Third placed in the Section, bronze medal.
  - Award for the best movement in-hand.
  - Award for Functionality where relevant.

The term "medal" does not necessarily imply an actual medal; this could be something representative which holds the same significance, either due to its color or size. Rosettes always represent each Competition and are typical at equestrian completions, therefore, Organizing Committees are recommended to grant them with the award, but it is accepted that rosettes as is the case with a diploma depends on the discretion of the OC.

2. The OC may award as many Awards and Honorary Mentions as they deem appropriate.

3. The award for the best movement in the sections 3, 4, 5 and 6 shall go to the horse that has the highest score resulting from adding the scores for walk and trot. In the case of sections 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 15, this shall be the horse that has the highest score resulting from the adding the scores for walk, trot and canter.

4. There is an award for functionality for sections 7-8, 9-10, and 11-12. This is awarded to the mare or stallion that obtains the highest score in the functionality test, from among the finalists in the sections of the same age group. Should there be a tie, it shall be awarded to the horse that was awarded the best score in the record for anatomical areas, including the movement in-hand. Should the tie persist, the tie shall remain.

5. Likewise, there an award has also been established for the best functionality for those horses in section 15, this being the horse that obtains the best score in the functionality test. In the case of a tie, follow the instructions in section 4 of this same article.

Article 70. SPECIAL AWARDS.

In all competitions of any category, the following Special Awards must be offered:

1.- BEST STUD FARM AWARD.

Any breeder seeking the Best Stud Farm Award must ensure that all the horses presented at the competition, whether entered or not for this award, fulfill the following requirements:

- The breeder may enter as many horses in the competition as he/she deems appropriate, but only those indicated ON THE ENTRY FORM count for this award. To compete for this award, it will be those horses that will be taken into consideration when determining which Stud Farm is worthy of this award, in accordance with the indications in Article 18 of the present rules and regulations.

- The horses have all been microchipped with his/her breeder code.
- The horses are all owned by the said breeder.
- In addition, the following shall be mandatory:
  - a) Present horses in Section 13, a stallion in one of Sections 8, 10 and 12 and a mare in one of Sections 7, 9 or 11.
  - b) Present horses at least in three (3) Sections, of those which are considered for this award, different to those indicated in point a)
  - c) Horses must be presented in a total of six (6) sections to seek the Best Stud Farm Award, if the CO deems appropriate, which must be indicated in the Rules and Regulation for that Competition.

To determine this award the following must be taken into account:

1. This award shall be granted to the stud farm that scores the highest quotient that comes from dividing the total tally of the points earned by the number of horses indicated for the award (when applying the scale as defined by the table in APPENDIX IX, which assigns the points for each horse, depending on its score and the section it is participating in, adding to that total, the amounts stipulated for the special individual awards indicated below) among the horses presented to be included the calculation for this award.
2. Those horses that, having been registered and entered for this Award, and that were not presented at the competition in their Section or that were disqualified, shall count as if eliminated in the first round. To determine the award for the Best Stud Farm, the corresponding points in the tally for these awards shall be added up and shall be counted when determining the average of the score obtained by the Stud Farm.
3. Section 13 (3-mare Cobras) shall be calculated in the same manner as the Sections for individual horses. Thus, the score established in Appendix IX shall be added to the total for the stud farm and the number of horses presented by the said stud farm, adding, in a single unit, the number of horses presented by that stud farm.

The following are awarded:

- Three (3) points for the Breed Mare/Stallion Champion.
- Two (2) points for the Reserve Mare/Stallion Breed Champion.
- Two (2) points for: Youngstock Colt/Filly Champion, Champion of Functionality, Mare/Stallion Champion of Movement presented in hand.

- One (1) point for Reserve Youngstock Colt/Filly Champion and Reserve Champion of Functionality.

Any horse that earns a Special Award shall continue to be considered one single horse in the division.

The 5-mare Cobras shall not be used in the calculation for the Award for the Best Stud Farm, although they shall be the first criteria to be taken into account in the event of a tie.

The horses in Section 15 shall not calculate for the Best Stud Award.

In the event of a tie, this shall be resolved in favor of that Stud Farm which has:

- Presented a 5-mare Cobra.
- If there is more than one Stud Farm in this situation, the one that earned the highest score in this Section.
- That which earned the highest score in the Section for 3-mare Cobras.
- Presented the greatest number of animals for the Best Stud Farm Award.
- Presented a mare in the functionality test.
- Presented the greatest number of stallions in the Sections.
- Presented the greatest number of mares in the Sections.

2.- BEST EXHIBITOR AWARD.

All those who fulfill the conditions laid out in these Rules and Regulations and present horses belonging to them in the same Sections established for the Best Stud Farm Award, even though all or some of the horses may not carry their own brand, nor micro chipped with the breeder code of the exhibitor, may seek the Best Exhibitor Award.

The calculation of the quotient shall be undertaken in the same manner as described for the Best Stud Farm Award.

In the event of a tie, the same criteria as for the previous award shall be applied.

3.- STALLION BREED CHAMPION AWARD.

The Stallion Breed Champion and Reserve shall be chosen from among those placed 1st and 2nd in Sections 8, 10 and 12, and in the following manner:

The first placed from each of the indicated Sections shall be placed in the center of the arena. Those placed second shall remain at one of the ends of the arena.

Whenever there are two teams of judges, those in the championship must perform the movements that correspond to their Section.

This test shall be judged by all the Judges, who shall judge the horses at halt. Each Judge shall award three points to that which they consider to be the best, two to the one that they consider to be second best and one to the third. The Judges shall not make any comments about the horses being judged. Thus, the Judge or Judges shall choose the Champion from among these first three.

Fourth. Dates.

The Spanish National Championships shall take place upon conclusion of the Conformational-Functional Competition season and always within the period that falls between the second half of November and the first half of December.

Fifth. Participants.

To participate in the Spanish National Championships, the horses must have previously qualified, having participated in any of the competitions approved for the Final of the Spanish National Championships. The number of horses to qualify at the various competitions approved by ANCCE shall be directly proportional to the number of stallions and mares that effectively participate in each of the Sections, to the facilities where the competition takes place and to a minimum global participation within the competition.

1. The number of individual horses to qualify shall be determined according to the following tables:

- Category A Competitions:

* Between	5 and 9 horses	→	3 qualifiers.
* Between	10 and 13 horses	→	6 qualifiers.
* Between	14 and 20 horses	→	7 qualifiers.
* Between	21 and 30 horses	→	8 qualifiers.
* Between	31 and 40 horses	→	9 qualifiers.
* Between	41 and 50 horses	→	10 qualifiers.
* Between	51 and 60 horses	→	11 qualifiers.

- + The Youngstock Champions

- + The Champion of Movement
  - + Champion of Functionality
  - Procedures for category C competitions:

In the event that this horse has already qualified in its Section, the qualification passes down to the horse placed second in the Section in which the Breed Champion took part.
(For example: There are seven horses in Section 10; therefore, the one placed first shall qualify. This first placed horse also takes part in the Breed Championship and wins; therefore, the Reserve Breed Champion also qualifies directly. If this had already qualified because it came top in its Section (with seven or more horses), the qualification passes directly down to the horse placed second in Section 10, second to the Breed Champion in this example.)
    - b) Champion of Movement. Only the Youngstock Champion and Adult Champion qualify.
    - c) Champion of Functionality. Only the champion qualifies.
2. For cobras in category A, B and C competitions:

All cobras that have qualified may participate in the final, only allowing one of the horses making up the cobra to be changed at the competition where it qualified.

For sections 13 and 14, when it is necessary to change the composition of the cobra, once the entry period has closed and always before the reception, only one of the components may be replaced in the case of section 13 and two in the case of section 14. Should no mare have been changed, and should one horse suffer injuries during the competition, it may be changed for another that is registered in any of the adult mare sections and that is present from the beginning and reception at the competition. As in all cases, at the time of entry and participation, the horses must be owned by the stud farm that enters them.

The classification of 3-mare Cobras for the Spanish National Championship requires that at least three of the cobras take part in the reference competition, for which the following criteria shall be followed:

- a) Competitions in which between three (3) and four (4) cobras have participated: that obtaining first place in category B and C competitions qualifies, and those obtaining the first two places in category A competitions qualify.
